Utility

Fast-Track

This feature offers a unique edge by providing early access to tokens set to be listed on CoinMarketCap (CMC) and CG.

Our Fast-Track Listing feature offers a unique advantage by providing early access to tokens poised for listing on CoinMarketCap (CMC) and CG.

This advantage is made possible by leveraging advanced machine learning techniques and custom-built Python bots.

These bots interact with various APIs across different platforms, monitoring listing activities in real-time.

Meanwhile, our machine learning algorithms keep refining their detection capabilities to stay ahead of the curve. We further amplify our competitive edge through strategic relationships within the crypto ecosystem.

Utility

Just-Trending

Our Just-Trending feature grants you instant access to the latest trending tokens across premier platforms such as Dextools, Poocoin, Uniswap, and more.

Through the integration of API technology, our system is designed to continually scrape and analyze data from these platforms.
The moment a token begins trending, our Python bots pick up on this shift, immediately reflecting this change within TrendingSwap.

These real-time updates enable you to engage with trending tokens just moments after they surge in popularity.

This swift, data-driven response sets the stage for timely investment opportunities, potentially at the inception of their rise.

Utility

Just-Listed

Our Just-Listed feature serves as your gateway to the latest entrants in the crypto market.

Harnessing the capabilities of API integration and data analysis, it swiftly captures and presents tokens newly listed on high-traffic platforms like CoinMarketCap and Avedex.

With each new listing, our Python bots respond in real-time, quickly reflecting these additions within TrendingSwap in seconds.

This instantaneous update empowers you to tap into the potential of newly listed tokens just as they step into the market, allowing you to potentially benefit from initial market momentum.

Utility

Price Movement

The Price Movement feature is designed to spotlight tokens exhibiting notable price actions, helping you identify potential investment opportunities.

We use a combination of strategies to predict promising price movements.

This includes monitoring changes in trading volume, rate of price change, and price volatility, as well as employing technical indicators such as Relative Strength Index (RSI) and Moving Average Convergence Divergence (MACD).

In doing so, our system seeks to identify tokens that might be about to make significant price moves, providing you with potential investment opportunities to maximize gains.
